We have a fantastic competition for you to enter!

A 'healthy city' is a place where life of all kinds can bloom; where nature grows alongside - or on! - high-rise buildings. It's a bustling, clean, and happy place where our bodies and minds are nourished.

But what does a healthy city look like?

The challenge:

Create a picture that shows what you think a 'healthy city' could look like. Your picture could be a cityscape or a map. You might want to zoom right in and draw a particular part of your city. You could even draw a new invention that will make your city healthy. Get creative!

Here's a few thoughts to inspire you:

- How would people travel in a healthy city?
- How will nature and wildlife be supported?
- What will people eat and how will they get their food?
- How will people reduce waste?
- Where will people live?
- How will your city's community stay healthy?

Here is what you need to do

1. Create your design on the template provided or on an A3 piece of paper.
2. Include an explanation about your city to say what you have included and why.
3. Bring your design into school by Monday 3rd June ready for us to enter you into the competition.

We can't wait to see your designs!
